door, and : person alight from it. The bell rang, and soon I was summoned to the ro m below. On entering the room I was met by a person who said he ca e to see me on imp rta t bus ness On being s ated he * began in this manner, and with these words: "Dr. Crummell, I have come here to inform you that there are one hundred of us who have concluded that we will no longer worship in St. Ma y's Chapel, nor in St. Luke's church. We intend to commence a new work somewhere on Fifteenth Street, between M Street and two of the leading clergymen of this city. I have come to imform you about it, so ihat you cannet say we have done this without your knowledge."

I immediately replied: "Well, this certainly is astonishing; what have I to do with your coming out of St. Luke's aband on the migration of which you chapel, or the migration, of which you now inform me, from my church. I have nothing to do with St. Mary's chapel, nor with your purpose to start a new church."

His immediate reply was as follows: "Oh, yes, you have a great deal to do with it. Dr. Crummell, the whole thing is in your hands. You have been here many years and you know your are a failure. Now, if you will resign from this church, all this movement will come to an end. You can settle the whole difficulty. I think you must know that the Bishop of the Diocese will look after you. I have no doubt whatever that Bishop Paret with provide some other work for you todo, and vide some other work for you to do, and you will be taken care of. But if you don't we shall take this step." Here I again interrupted him and said: "Well, this is indeed a wonderfu thing! You are neither the Archbishop of America nor the Bishop of this Diocese, nor the most eminent layman in this neighborhood; and yet you have come here to my house to give 'notice to quit;'and you warn me if I dont you will start a new church near St. Luke's.'

Here he interurpted with the words:

There he interdipted with the words.

"Oh, I don't mean to offend you by what I have said." And then, with subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve mon hs—one both hands flying above my head, his came to let you know what we intend to do, if you won't take the step I have mentioned It is all in, your own hands, You can easily settle this whole matter. If you will only resign you may "Look here, sir," was my answer. "Now I have heard enough from you. This conversation must stop right here.' And I arose at once to my feet and shewed him the door. On leaving the room ne turned and said to me: "Well Dr. Crummeil, you can't say that we have'nt told you fully what we in tend to do.' Who do you think was the Thing who dared thus to come in my house, and insult and threaten me in this manner? Why, a creature notorious for his licent ousness from his boyhood, A Leper, who got in peril once for the ruin of a woman, and shortly afterwards was publicly beaten for the rain of another. A fellow, once snatched from a house of infamy, and with his victim brought before a city magistrate. Noted at all times for his drunken bouts; famous for his filtay amours and his gross blasphemies in the streets of Washington. And this demoralized and broken down hing flaunts the astorious falsehood in my face that you, the quiet, loyal people of my church are going to follow him into a new church organization, if I do not leave my post. A man who decent people in this city woc,t associate with. He, the depeaved Moses to lead the saints of God in this city, into the worship of God, and into the ways of holiness. Why, my friends, we who call ourselves diciples of Christ, never think of rushing into soloons and gambling halls, and houses of infamy to become the chiefs therein. But how do you acount for the fact, that demoralized and licentious men are so anxious to become headmen in our churches, the first officers in the house of God.

Here is a wretched and disorganized creature, full of zeal to get hold of St. Luke's church, and to bs a "big man in it. And thrusts himself into my house, and gives me "notice to quit," and warns me of the consequences if I don't obey him. And all because he wants this church for himself and his boon companions. Well, we will wait and see who "the rich man" is .who is going to bolster up this precious character, and who the "two leading clerzymen" who are his allies.

The Treasury Department Saturday resumed the payment over its counter of paper money. For the past ten days only gold has been paid for Treasury checks. This has reduced the gold and also allowed the Treasury to secure a stock of paper money, believed to be sufficient, at least, for present needs.

The Commissioner of Patents has rendered a decision that a State's trade mark cannot be lawfully registered as that of a mercantile corporation possessed of full powers, and consequently the State of South Carolina cannot receive authority to pursue, or be protected in pursuing, the liquor traffic in the country at large.

It can be stated on adequate authority, and without any impropriety, that the domestic event in Mr. Cleveland's family which was expected to occur at Buzzard's Bay in August, is now expected to occur in the White House about the middle of September, where Mrs. Cleveland will resume her residence on her return to Washington.

President Cleveland arrived in Washington Friday and immediately proceeded to the White House, where he disposed of the mass of public business that had accumulated during his abwas held, at which all the members were present Secretary Smith.

Actions the questions considered was the repeal of the silver law, about which the President expressed himself THE HOUSE VOTES TO REHEAL as quite satisfied his recommendations would prevail. Home Rule will Prevail.

The final stage of the Home Rule bill, set for August 30, has led to the most extensive preparations by both Liberals and Tories. Mr. Gladstone is expected to close the debate by another great speech. The bill will be passed, and will go to the House of Lords on Monday, September 4.

Mr. Gladstone has made temporary peace with the Scotchmen who were claiming his attention for their demands before they went further with him in Irish home rule. He has thrown a sop to the Radicals, with their "Newcastle programme," by promising that the next parliamentary session shall be devoted exclusively to British afestablishment.

Troubles Over Pensions.

There is serious trouble brewing between Elijah A. Morse, member of Congress from the Twelfth Massachusetts District, and William Lochren, of Minnesota, Commissioner of Pensions. Mr. Morse has informed Mr. Lochren that he expects him immediately to order a review and re-examination of a Congress and the country to this case at the first opportunity." Mr. Lochren has replied: "I shall have to submit to this dire alternative, for I assure you I will not order a review or re-examination of the case." Mr. Lochren further suggests that Mr. Morse is an illinformed "demagogue" with "a capacity for willful and malignant lying." and afflicted further with a development of "sordid meanness," which impels him to violate a law of Congress by wrongfully using a Government penalty envelope to convey a "silly libel" and thereby "swindle his Government out of the sum of two cents."

He left New Orleans November 13, 1892, and has two and one-half years from that time to win the wager. He has lost thirty pounds in weight.

The Cholera in Hungary.

The cholera is slowly but steadily spreading in the great ceutres of population in Galicia and Hungary, where it is difficult to eradicate it. A dispatch from Trivoli says several cases of Asiatic cholera have been found among the Mecca pilgrims and the patients have been taken to the hospital. Double guards surround the hospital. Most of the pilgrims who are stricken are in a very critical condition
